Community Resource Guide

The team members of Frazier Rehab Institute understand the impact an illness, injury, or disability can have on the everyday lives of members in our community. We hope you will find the area resources compiled in this guide to be helpful. This is by no means a complete list of agencies. If you have identified a need that is not listed here or have questions about getting help, please ask one of our experienced team members or contact your case manager at (502) 582-7466. We may be able to help or offer direction to get the help you need.

This guide contains some of the most requested and utilized community resources that might be of benefit to you and/or your family. This information has been gathered from agencies serving the Greater Louisville and Southern Indiana area.

Michael Brent Resource Center

Many of the agencies listed in this guide book have websites which offer much more information regarding the services available than we can list here. If you don’t have access to a computer, you may use one of the computers in the Michael Brent Resource Center. The Center is located on the 11th floor of Frazier Rehab Institute and is open to Frazier families from 8:00am to 4:30pm Monday through Friday.

The Center is supported by Friends for Michael Inc., a non-profit group dedicated to raising funds and awareness of spinal cord injury in memory of Michael Brent. The Center provides information to survivors and their families about not only spinal cord injury, but other disabling conditions as well. Functioning as a lending library of books, magazines, DVDs, and CDs, the Center also provides adaptive computer access to the internet. For more information about the Michael Brent Resource Center, visit www.spinalcordmedicineresources.com

INTRODUCTION – WHERE TO START

Education

The experienced Frazier Rehab Team has found education regarding an injury or illness is essential for preparing patients and families for discharge to home and managing future recovery needs. We invite you to take advantage of our family and caregiver educational opportunities.

- Ask your case manager about available educational material and support groups here at Frazier and in your community.
- Schedule family teaching days to attend therapy sessions with Frazier team members.
- Attend Team Rounds to participate in treatment planning.
- Keep a journal, take notes, and ask lots of questions.
- Review educational material available in the Michael Brent Resource Room.
- Research outside information in your library or on the internet.

Caregivers

In the early phase of recovery, caregivers may be involved in treatment planning, decision making, and coordinating discharge plans. If you need to take time off from work to participate in the rehab program, ask your employer about signing up for leave under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA). FMLA allows you to take up to 12 weeks off from work, either all at once or intermittently, without jeopardizing your employment with many employers.

Being a caregiver can be a tough job. It is very important for caregivers to take care of themselves. Do your best to eat right, rest when you can, and take time out for yourself. The caregiver role may be more prominent after discharge and we want you to be prepared for the transition to home.

Family, Friends, and Neighbors as Resources

The people around you can be good resources and often want to help, they just don’t know how. If extended family, friends, or neighbors offer to help, give them something to do. For example, ask them to sit with your loved one so you can go home and take a shower, feed the dog, run an errand, mow the lawn, set out your trash cans, collect your mail, make a donation to a charitable organization that may be assisting you, etc.

Community

If you are unable to find the resources you need around you, look to your community for help. There are public assistance programs and community agencies that may be able to assist you. Some of the services available are listed in this guide.
FAMILY LODGING

Family Lodging

Louisville, Kentucky 40202
(502) 581-1416
https://rmhc-kentuckiana.org/

The Ronald McDonald House provides lodging to families who are from outside of the metro Louisville area and are seeking medical care for their child. RMH eligibility requirements include:

- Patient must be 21 and younger
- Must live outside of Jefferson County in Kentucky or Clark and Floyd Counties in Indiana.
- Must have a referral from physician, nurse or social worker on your child’s treatment team.

Information about lodging at Ronald McDonald House:

- The rate is $20 night, but no one is turned away
- Rooms have a shared bath, kitchen, living room, and laundry areas.
- Internet access is available on 1st floor.
- Stocked kitchen areas are available and often volunteers provide meals.

HEALTH CARE COVERAGE

Health Insurance

Medical care is costly. Read your health insurance policy and learn the vocabulary to better understand the benefits and limitations of the policy. For example, do you know?

- What is your annual deductible for your health insurance plan?
- What is your coinsurance responsibility for care?
- Do you have an out of pocket maximum?
- What are the benefits for outpatient therapy recommended by the rehab team?
- What are the benefits for the durable medical equipment needed at discharge?
If you live in Kentucky and do not have health insurance, check with the Kentucky Health Benefit Exchange to determine your eligibility for health insurance. You may find an affordable health care plan, be eligible for premium subsidies, or obtain Medicaid coverage under the Affordable Care Act of 2010. There are Application Assisters who can help you with this process. For more information, contact Kentucky’s Health Benefit Exchange at (855) 459-6328 or visit the website https://kyhbe.ky.gov/.

If you live in Indiana or another state, you can find health insurance information at the new www.healthcare.gov website or by calling (800) 318-2596.

Medicaid

Medicaid is a health insurance plan covering children, seniors, and disabled individuals from low income families. Non-disabled individuals who meet the federal income requirements may also be eligible. Each state administers the program differently. To determine if you are eligible for Medicaid, contact your state’s Department of Medicaid Services, health insurance exchange, or your county social services office. For more information regarding Medicaid, visit Kentucky’s website at https://benefind.ky.gov/ or Indiana’s website at www.indianamedicaid.com.

Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment

Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment (EPSDT) is a Medicaid program that is federally mandated to ensure low income children under the age of 21 are provided an array of prevention, diagnostic, and treatment services. Services include the areas of medical, mental health, vision, hearing, and dental care. Through a prior-authorization process, children may receive medically necessary treatment or equipment that is not available to Medicaid members 21 years old or older. For more information regarding EPSDT, visit Kentucky’s website at https://chfs.ky.gov/agencies/dms/dpqo/dcmb/Pages/epsdt-screenings.aspx or Indiana’s website at https://www.in.gov/medicaid/files/epsdt.pdf

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Income

When a catastrophic injury or illness impacts the income of an individual or family, the results can be devastating. Review the options available to you through your employer, insurance policies, and government assistance programs, or in your community. Find out if you or your child are eligible for any of the following:

- Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Temporary Financial Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or Kentucky Temporary Assistance Program (KTAP)
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

Disability Income

To apply for Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) programs, contact the Social Security Administration at (800) 772-1213, go to your local Social Security office or visit the website at www.ssa.gov.

Social Security – New Albany

Helpful information to apply for SSDI or SSI:

- Children can be eligible for SSI if they have a disabling condition that meets impairment criteria listed by the Social Security Administration for greater than one year AND their parent(s) income and assets fall below the allowable amount. If your child is 18 or over, the Social Security Administration’s determination for SSDI or SSI is based on if the applicant will be disabled (unable to work) for greater than one year.
- Make sure all requested information is submitted with the application and deadlines are followed.
- The application process can take several months before the initial decision is made.
- Some applicants are deferred. This means their progress is reviewed again after a specified period of time before a decision will be made.
- Many applicants are denied. The appeal process is explained in the denial letter.
- There are four levels of appeal and the appeal process can take up to 1-2 years.
- Individuals have found that legal assistance can facilitate the appeal process.
- If you are declared disabled, you will be awarded one of two disability programs, Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI), based on the amount of money you have contributed to the Social Security tax system through your work history.

- If you are approved for SSDI, you will be eligible for Medicare after a 2 year waiting period, except individuals with End Stage Renal Disease and Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis. Those diagnoses allow for Medicare to start at the same time SSDI starts.
- If you live in Kentucky and are approved for SSI, you will automatically be eligible for Medicaid. There is no waiting period for Medicaid.
- If you live in Indiana you will need to apply separately for IN Medicaid.

CAREGIVER SUPPORT

Paid Time Off or Medical Leave

To continue to receive pay while you need to be off from work to take care of yourself or a loved one, check with the human resources representative of your employer to determine if you can use your sick time, medical leave, or vacation time. Ask about the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA). FMLA allows you to take up to 12 weeks off from work, either all at once or intermittently, without jeopardizing your employment with many employers.

Family, Friends and Neighbors as Resources

The people around you can be good resources and often want to help, they just don’t know how. If extended family, friends or neighbors offer to help, give them something to do. For example, ask them to sit with your loved one so you can go home and take a shower, feed the dog, run an errand, mow the lawn, set out your trash cans, collect your mail, make a donation to a charitable organization that may be assisting you, etc.

Hiring Caregiver Assistance

Families often need assistance when providing care to a loved one. You may need to consider hiring help at home. The following private companies have provided marketing material to Frazier Rehab for hired caregiver services. The companies noted below are not endorsed by Frazier Rehab and are listed for informational purposes only:

In Indiana - there are four waiver programs that serve children:

• Community Integration and Habilitation – serves children and adults with developmental or intellectual disabilities, including autism.
• Family Supports – serves children and adults with developmental and intellectual disabilities, including autism.
• Aged and Disabled – serves children and adults with physical or medical disabilities
• Traumatic Brain Injury – serves children and adults with brain injuries.
• Child Mental Health Wraparound

To qualify for Medicaid waiver services for either state:

• Meet the specific medical criteria for the waiver
• Meet the nursing home level of care as certified by a physician
• Choose to remain at home or in residential care with waiver services
• Meet the income/resource criteria for the program

Waiver programs can provide a variety of services to help parents care for children in the home setting. Some of the waiver services include:

• Medically Fragile Day Care
• Personal Care
• Disposable Medical Supplies
• Case Management
• Environmental/Minor Home Adaptation
• Community Living Supports
• Home and Vehicle Modifications
• Home Delivered Meals and Nutritional Supplements
• Homemaker
• Physical, Occupational or Speech Therapy
• Respite Care
• Specialized Medical Equipment

There is a two-part application process to determine eligibility for all waiver programs. First the individual has to be approved for medical eligibility for the program. The individual/family must then apply at the county Medicaid office to determine financial eligibility. The income criteria to be eligible for a waiver program are higher than the criteria for standard Medicaid. To learn more about Medicaid waiver eligibility and services, contact your state’s Medicaid Waiver program department.

Some waivers have Participant Directed options which allow waiver recipients to choose their own providers for non-medical waiver services. This option may allow you to hire a family member or friend to help with your care. Ask about Participant Directed options when applying for waiver programs.

Participant Directed Services (PDS)

Participant Directed Services (PDS) allows individuals eligible for Medicaid waiver programs to choose their own providers for non-medical waiver services. Kentucky Medicaid members may participate in PDS if they currently receive or are eligible for services through waiver programs. This option may allow you to hire a friend or family member to help with care. Rules apply. Contact the Department for Aging and Independent Living for more information about this option and how to apply.

After an injury or illness, children and families are provided services through their local education systems to help children transition back to school. Exceptional Child Education (ECE) programs are designed to meet the needs of students who have educational disabilities. Services are provided to students in both comprehensive and special education facilities, and a range of programs, techniques, methods, and materials is available for individualized instruction.
• Home or Hospital instruction is offered to children who have suffered an injury or have a chronic illness impacting their ability to attend school. A tutor can meet with your child at home or while they are in the hospital if approved by your child’s physician.

• When your child is ready to return to school, a committee may meet to discuss an educational plan for your child. This plan is called an Individual Education Program or IEP. An IEP is a document developed by a committee for students with disabilities. The committee meets annually to review the student’s progress and develop a new IEP. IEP goals for students are developed to address academic, social/emotional, and transition needs (e.g., changing to a different academic program, progressing from one level to another, or starting a career).

• Admission and Release Committee (ARC) is the name of the committee that meets to develop IEPs for students. The ARC includes the student, parents, general education teacher, special education teachers, and possibly counselors. Parents are vital members of this committee and are encouraged to be strong advocates for your child. Funding for services to assist your child in school is tied to what is written in the IEP. Always have recommendations specified in writing.

• If your child is not eligible for an IEP, your child may still be eligible for special accommodations under a 504 Plan if he or she has a physical or mental health disability that limits one or more major life functions.

• Vocational rehabilitation counselors are available for high school students in the school setting. Counselors can help students with disabilities make decisions regarding post secondary education or vocational training.

• Schools may provide early childhood education programs for 3 and 4 year olds to help pre-school children prepare to start school. Age and ability specific programs

Indiana and Kentucky Departments of Education provide assistance with:

• Exceptional children services
• Individual Education Plan (IEP) and 504 plans
• Home/hospital tutoring programs
• Early childhood education programs for 3 and 4 year olds

If you have questions regarding school related services, you can contact Frazier Case Management at (502) 582-7686 for assistance.
